DRZ · DRAGONZ CENTRAL

Dragonz Central

The complete home of the DRZ crew

What it is, everything it does, and how it compares

A proposal / overview to share

Live demo: dragonz-q6wr.onrender.com

October 2026

THE SHORT VERSION

One home for the whole crew

Dragonz Central is a complete, ready-to-use website for the DRZ crew. It brings every creator, live stream, video, event and fan into one place — and most of it runs automatically. When a creator goes live on YouTube or Kick, the site knows within seconds and shows it. Fans can follow their favourite creators and get an instant alert the moment they go live. A full admin panel lets the team run everything without touching any code.

In one line

A live, self-updating hub for the crew that fans actually want to open every day — with a control panel so the team runs it themselves. It is built and working now; you can open the live demo today.

Why it matters

- Fans find everything in one place — who is live, new videos, events, news and the full roster.
- Creators get more views — followers are alerted the instant they go live, and consistent streamers are rewarded with a featured spot.
- The crew looks professional — one official home with a clean, modern, mobile-friendly design.
- Almost no manual work — live status, videos and follower counts update by themselves from YouTube and Kick.
- It is free to run — built entirely on free hosting plans.

FOR THE AUDIENCE

What fans get

Live alerts — the headline feature

- A fan follows any creator from their profile.
- The moment that creator goes live on YouTube or Kick, the fan gets a notification on the site.
- They can also get an email alert when a creator goes live (capped at one per creator every 3 hours, so it is never spammy).
- The Live page shows everyone streaming right now and refreshes itself — no reloading.

Explore the crew

- Full member profiles: photo, role, RP character, bio, where to watch, latest videos, achievements and stats.
- All videos in one place, pulled automatically from YouTube; the team can star the best ones.
- Events with live countdowns, "remind me", and add-to-calendar.
- News and announcements from the crew.
- Community showcase: fans post clips, art and edits (checked by a moderator first).
- Hall of Fame: the crew's biggest wins and milestones.
- Site-wide search and a clean experience on phone and desktop.

Fan Zone — keeps fans coming back

- Points and levels: fans earn XP for taking part and level up from Hatchling to Dragon Lord.
- 13 badges to collect and a Top Fans leaderboard.
- Daily check-in with streaks, to build a daily habit.
- Polls & predictions ("Who wins Friday's race?") — results hidden until you vote.
- Clip of the Week: fans vote on the best community clip; the winner is picked automatically and featured.
- Quote Wall: the funniest and most legendary lines from streams.
- Reactions and comments on news, events, community posts and quotes.
- Join the crew: a proper recruitment application form with status tracking, reply and email.

FOR THE STREAMERS

What creators get

- Automatic promotion: go live and you appear on the home page and Live page instantly — no posting required.
- Followers alerted the second you start, bringing viewers in faster.
- Featured crew, earned by streaming: hit the weekly goals (e.g. streams, hours, days) and you are featured on the home page for the week.
- Streamer of the Week, streak flames and crew badges (50/100 Hours Club, Marathon, Iron Streak, Night Owl) — friendly competition that motivates consistency.
- Your videos and follower counts stay up to date on their own.
- A "Crew grind this week" ranking that shows who is putting in the work.

Fair by design

Streaming on YouTube and Kick at the same time counts once, very short streams don't count, and the exact stream times are taken from the platforms — so the numbers are honest.

FOR THE CREW LEADERSHIP

What the team gets: the admin panel

A private control panel runs the whole site — no code, no developer needed. Different staff roles see only what they are allowed to.

Area	What the team can do
Members & creators	Add, edit or remove members; upload photos; set roles, RP character, bio, birthday, join date, and YouTube / Kick links. The site starts syncing a channel the moment it is added.
Featured crew	Set the weekly streaming goals, choose automatic or hand-picked, pin or exclude members, and see each member's weekly progress.
Videos	Star videos to feature them, hide ones you don't want, or add a video by hand.
Live integrations	See that YouTube and Kick syncing is healthy, with follower counts and any errors; turn on instant Kick live alerts.
News & events	Write and publish announcements and events with banners, dates and stream links.
Community, comments, quotes	Approve, feature, hide or remove fan posts, comments and quotes.
Polls	Create, pin, close and reopen polls.
Applications	Review crew applications, message applicants, and accept or reject (they are notified and emailed).
Users & roles	Manage fan accounts and assign staff roles (Super Admin, Admin, Content Manager, Moderator).
Hall of Fame, Supporters	Manage achievements, milestones and supporter badges.
Notifications, Analytics, Audit log	Send site-wide notices, see page-view stats, and a full record of who changed what.
Settings	Discord link, home page tagline, a site-wide banner, and open or close recruitment.

THE FOUNDATION

Solid, safe and free to run

Reliable and automatic

- Connects to YouTube and Kick through their official systems (nothing is scraped), within free limits.
- Instant Kick live alerts (webhooks), with the sender verified so nobody can fake a "went live" message.
- Sends emails for sign-up verification, password reset, live alerts, event reminders and application updates.
- Runs background jobs by itself: syncing, reminders, and picking the Clip of the Week winner.

Secure

- Passwords are never stored in readable form; every admin action is permission-checked on the server.
- Protection against fake form submissions, spam (rate limits) and people trying to edit others' data.
- DDoS protection included automatically (the site sits behind Cloudflare via the host).
- Fans' emails are never shown publicly; every important change is logged.

Free to host

- Built on free plans: Render (site), Neon (database), Supabase (images), Brevo (email).
- Code lives on GitHub; every update deploys to the live site automatically.
- Can move onto the official domain (e.g. drzofficial.in) whenever the crew decides — the whole thing becomes the official site at no extra cost.

THE DIFFERENCE

How it compares to the current drzofficial.in Both sites belong to the same crew (they share the same DRZ Discord). The difference is how far each one is built.

	drzofficial.in (current)	Dragonz Central (this one)
Stage	An early first version — "built to grow"	A complete, working platform
Content	Mostly empty placeholders — no events, no announcements, roster not filled in	Full roster (9 members), real videos, working sections
Live streams	A basic "checking live streams" status	Real-time live tracking on YouTube & Kick, auto-refreshing
Follow & alerts	Not available	Follow creators & get notified the moment they go live
Fan features	None yet	Full Fan Zone: XP, badges, polls, Clip of the Week, Quote Wall, recruitment
Creator rewards	None	Featured crew earned by streaming, Streamer of the Week, crew badges
Admin control	Unknown / not shown	Full admin panel for the whole team, with roles
Automation	Minimal	Videos, live status and follower counts update automatically
Address	On the nice domain (drzofficial.in)	On a demo link today; can move to the domain anytime

The simple proposal

Put Dragonz Central — the finished platform — onto the official drzofficial.in address. The crew keeps the great domain and gets a site that is actually complete and runs itself. It can be done without losing the domain or any extra cost.

THE ROADMAP

What we can add next

The platform is ready now. These are easy, high-impact additions we can roll out on top:

Idea	What it adds
Founder spotlight	A special highlighted section for the founder at the top of the crew.
Push notifications / install as an app	Fans "add to home screen" and get live alerts on their phone like a real app.
Watch all DRZ live at once	One screen that plays every live stream side by side.
Discord auto-posts	Automatically announce in Discord when a creator goes live or news drops.
Stream schedule	A weekly timetable of when creators plan to go live.
Past Kick streams	List recorded Kick streams in the Videos section.
Member of the Month	Fan-voted, with a Hall of Fame spot.
Tournaments & sign-ups	Event brackets fans can register for.
Merch / support links	A place for your store, memberships or donations.
Hindi + English toggle	Switch the site language for the Indian audience.
Weekly recap email	Top clip, poll result and upcoming events, sent to fans automatically.

In short

Dragonz Central is a finished, self-updating home for the DRZ crew: fans follow creators and get instant live alerts, creators are promoted automatically and rewarded for streaming, and the team runs everything from one control panel — all on free hosting, ready to move onto the official domain today.

Open the live demo: dragonz-q6wr.onrender.com · Questions? Reach out on the DRZ Discord.